PRESIDENT'S REPORT

G-day,

Another year has almost come to an end, and as President since June I am very pleased with the way the club is going. The committee has worked hard these last few months with getting the club motivated with a number of social events and new trips, which I believe had something for everyone.

Membership is up over last year which is great, we all like to see new faces and hopefully some new ideas in helping the club in the future. So with all that we can give our selves a pat on the back-well done.

I believe the boys fishing trip last month went very well. The weather was nice and warm and the company was good and I think they even caught some fish.

The Christmas Picnic at the Belair National Park was a great day for everyone, and everybody had a good time, it would have been good to see a few more faces there on the day though. A big THANK YOU to Christian and Karen Whamond for organising a fun day.

The Blackwood Christmas Pagent on Friday the 6th should have been a big hit. I am only guessing we had heaps of kids to fill the utes, because this is going to print before the event.

In December, Hubert Orbons is leading a trip to the High Country straight after Xmas, and then Mark Moss is leading another trip to the High Country at the beginning of January. They will both be good trips.

No meeting in January, so I hope to catch up with everyone at Beachport at the end of January to start the beginning of another exciting year for the Mt Lofty Rangers.

I decided to make this report a short one so I would like to thank everybody for there support throughout the year, and those of you that are going away over Christmas have a good and safe trip and look forward to catching up in the New Year.

On behalf of the committee I wish you all the best for Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Happy trails

PARACHILNA GORGE TRIP

FIRST DAY - SATURDAY - 5/10/02

Had the usual routine planned, meet at Globe Derby around 6am, breakfast at the Mambray Creek rest stop, morning tea at Hawker etc, etc. Things went pretty much to plan, despite starting the trip by leaving our breakfast (hot cheese and bacon rolls) in the microwave!!

The convoy consisted of Michael, Isobelle, Emma and Andrew Brett (Tourists), new members Stephen and Paula Green, and Lynette and Hubert Orbons (Sherpa).

A couple of us made an extra stop at the Quorn chemist and we restocked on Quorn Year of the Outback, ginger beer. Then it was on to Hawker to fuel the cars and the bodies and check out the annual Hawker Art Display. The guy at Mobil said they had been flat out all week so the drought hasn't kept people away from the Flinders Ranges.

Although it was an uneventful cruise up to Parachilna Gorge, it was great to

There wasn't much water in the Parachilna Gorge, but quite a few families had found great camping spots near the creek. We found a great spot near a small waterhole, which seemed to be permanently occupied by two children.

The small creek was handy for washing and dishes water and gave us at least 2 water crossing per day (4 inches deep). We soon had the camp set up, had lunch and as we had all brought wood it didn't take long for a campfire to boil the first of many billies.

Parachilna campsite

Seems the Tourists and Sherpas had a hard week, as they retired to bed early leaving new members Stephen and Paula Green wondering what they had got themselves into.

SECOND DAY - SUNDAY - 6/10/02

Day two dawned bright and clear after a night of storms, which had Isobel and Lynette brushing up on their evacuation plans. Today's plans were for a drive to Chambers Gorge.

After breakfast Lynette and Hubert set up their u-beaut shower. I declare these two are the cleanest campers I've ever met. Unfortunately the shower nozzle failed halfway through Lynette's shower, dumping the whole bag of water at once. This brought squeals of surprise from Lynette, and curses from Hubert who had to forgo his shower as all the hot water had been used.

We finally set off at the agreed time of 10 o'clock. After the obligatory stop for Steve's morning fix of iced coffee we were on our way.

We drove through Blinman. The main street quiet except for several emus passing the time of day.

During our journey Hubert spotted a nice detour up the side of a rather steep hill, and managed a rather creditable hill climb. Unfortunately the detour was a dead end so Hubert returned and we continued our journey.

We came across a magnificent edifice carved out of stone depicting a Dreamtime story. However on closer inspection we realised the whole thing was actually moulded out of fibreglass. This had Michael quite disillusioned, having to return to inspect it a second time to make sure.

We finally reached the Gorge. We found a good spot to stop for lunch with plenty of shade and even a rope swing to keep Andrew and Emma, (and Lynette) amused. Hubert soon had a small fire going and we all toasted sandwiches for lunch.

We set off after lunch for a drive through the Gorge...

About half way up Chambers Gorge, Stephen and Paula elected to wait for the Tourists and Sherpa to continue the exploration, as their new shelving system was not bolted down, and there were a few steep creek en-

Christmas Picnic, 1st December 2002

Christmas is getting closer, and the annual Mount Lofty Rangers Christmas picnic was held this year at Belair National Park. A large Group of Rangers met for lunch and played games while waiting for Santa.

The weather was fantastic with a slight breeze to keep the temperature down. We had a face painter again who painted all the kids faces, with Spiderman being a big hit this year.

Most people had prepared rolls and sandwiches, but some still brought the trusty BBQ and sizzled up a great feed. A few games of Tug a war were played, Petrol's Vs Diesel's and the Petrol's showed their strength and won (the fact they had Lane on their side had nothing to do with it). An egg and spoon race was held for the kids with everyone a winner and taking a prize of assorted chocolates.

After the games we had a visit from Santa who had a sack full of presents for the kids. The kids sat at his feet while presents where given out and the paper started to rip.

Once Santa left, we all sat around drinking coldies while the kids played with their new gifts.

A great day was had and we a good turnout of members.

Hopefully the next person that takes over the Social Secretary position next year will have as much support to these events as we have had.

Social Secretary.

I have enjoyed this position for the past couple of years but with the extra commitments I have taken on with the Driver Training Unit and SAAFWDC, I would like to pass the position of Social club secretary on to someone else. Please think about it as I will not be accepting the position after next year's AGM and if no one puts their hand up we will be without a social scene which will be a real shame.

To all Members

We are always looking for new and exciting events that people can participate in as a social activity in the club. If anyone has any suggestions or has recently done a activity that they found exciting and would like to share this experience with other club members, please talk to Christian or Karen and we will make a note in the club Rangers review and possibly organise a club trip.

trances/exits and rock hopping requiring 4L. Luckily, Stephen and Paula had seen this part of the gorge on previous occasions.

The next few kms are quite spectacular and very easy to lose your sense of direction as the gorge winds it way SE (I think !!). Many cliffs overhang the track and there a several unusual and spectacular columns and rock formations including the Three Sisters look-alike (thanks Stephen).

It is obvious by looking at the water damage to trees and the height of debris deposited in the trees, that this is NOT a good spot to be when the creek is flowing fast and fierce!!

This area has more in common with the Northern Flinders or Gammon Ranges than the Central Flinders. Quite a few waterholes reminded me of Stubbs Waterhole and the flood damaged trees in numerous creeks near Arkaroola.

There were quite a few more wild goats, kangaroos and wallabies in this part of the gorge and even more so on a little used side track/creek bed that I accidentally found, by taking a wrong turn on the way back to Stephen and Paula.

The drive home was made interesting by the fact that we were driving toward the setting sun. The wind had got up during the afternoon and whipped up considerable amounts of dust on the roads. The light and the dust combined to make it an interesting drive, combining the magnificent reds and purples of the winding hills with, at times, almost zero visibility.

A quick stop at Angorichina on the way home to use the facilities and the telephone, to check up on the status of those left at home, saw us making camp just after dark, a little later than planned. As we pulled into camp we realised something was not quite right. It seemed cyclone Tracy's little sister had visited while we were away. The Bretts' tents had shifted a few feet, one losing its cover, both toilet tents were blown over and Huberts' flattened. The two shade tents were unfortunately unrecognisable. The only tent's to escape were Steve and Paula's, one by virtue of a miracle, the other because they carry this one around on the roof of their car.

A friendly fellow camper had at least placed rocks on the downed tents to prevent them from blowing away. He also offered the loan of his generator and floodlights.

We decided that rather than try to piece together the tents that we would pack them up. With all hands on deck we soon had things ship shape. The Brett's spent the night cosily in one tent and Hubert and Lynette in the Greens' spare tent, the carrying of which has proved useful on more than one occasion.

Once sorted and seated around the campfire it was decided that it was far too late to cook a meal. Fridges and eskies were raided and one big happy hour began. A pleasant evening was spent together eating, drinking, talking and joking. We all retired with full bellies, a warm place to sleep and the pleasant afterglow that working together to achieve a common goal leaves.

PARACHILNA GORGE TRIP LAST DAY - MONDAY - 8/10/02

Woke up in someone else's tent !!

Oh yeah, that's right, we had a small gale go thru the campsite yesterday. and our battered tent got packed away. Bummer to have the damage, but great to have friends help clear up and lend you a tent. Had an easy breakfast and started packing up the rest of the gear. Things went smoothly and we were all ready to go surprisingly early (for Sherpa).

Stopped at Hawker for morning tea and checked out the shops. The main general store has gone a bit up market sells an unexpected range of goodies including bush tucker, cappacinos etc and has a great little café area inside. After grabbing a takeaway cappacino, fresh bun and rolls for lunch, it was over the road to check out Jeff Morgan's Art Gallery. It mainly stocks prints of his paintings but also stocks local aboriginal artwork, recyled carved redgum jewellery boxes etc, electroplated gum leaves and gum nuts and other nick nacks. It was our 24th wedding anniversary so we treated ourselves to some goodies from the gallery. All this made for a long stop but we were enjoying standing rather than sitting in the cars.

After the spending spree we headed off again for an uneventful cruise down to Lochiel for lunch and then home.

Many thanx to Tourists and Stephen and Paula for providing good cheer, co-operation & great company.

Special moments or treats:

Walk up Blinman Creek to the waterfall. Aboriginal Rock Art Peckings Great views & wildlife

FIRE REGULATIONS

Fire Restrictions

During The Fire Danger Season fire restrictions apply throughout South Australia including Adelaide Metropolitan (Inner Adelaide). During this period you must apply for a permit to use fire outdoors at any time.

There are some exceptions, notably barbecues, campfires, incinerators and some industrial processes such as gas and electric welding.

If you have any doubt about lighting any fire during the Fire Danger Season use the CFS Fire Bans Hotline 1300 362 361 to seek advice.

The penalties for illegally lighting a fire are severe. You face the possibility of incurring a fine of up to $8,000 or imprisonment for up to two (2) years.

Total Fire Bans & Hotline

On days when extreme weather conditions (high wind and high temperature) could cause fires to become uncontrollable, Total Fire Bans may be declared in some fire ban districts or even across all South Australia. These bans will apply for 24 hours from midnight to midnight the following day. They are broadcast on radio and television from 6.00pm. If in doubt check on the CFS Fire Bans Hotline.

Be aware that if extreme weather conditions develop suddenly, a Total Fire Ban could be announced as late as 7.00 am on the morning of the ban. Total Fire Bans may also be removed at 7.00 am, where weather conditions have moderated considerably. Both situations would be broadcast on radio and the CFS Fire Bans Hotline.

Barbecues & Campfires

Throughout the Fire Danger Season if a Total Fire Ban has not been declared, you may use any barbecue or campfire for cooking or warmth (personal comfort) but there are conditions that you must follow.

The fire must be contained in a barbecue or cooker, a properly constructed fire place or a 30 centimetre deep trench, not more than 1 square metre in area. As well, you must have cleared away all flammable material for a 4 metre space around and above it.

While it is alight you must also stay with the fire and have with you sufficient water or other appropriate extinguishing agent to be able to put the fire out.

On a Total Fire Ban Day:

The only fires you can use outside on a Total Fire Ban Day for cooking, are gas stoves or kettles, gas barbecues and electric barbecues or stoves. Even these can only be used within 15 metres of a dwelling or on coastal foreshore in a 4 metre cleared area with a responsible person in attendance at all times and water or other extinguishing agent on hand. All campfires are banned.

Some councils also allow gas or electric barbecues to be used in caravan parks or cleared picnic areas on Total Fire Ban Days. Look for the signs or notice boards, or contact the council office for advice.

National Park Reserves

The National Parks and Wildlife Service have strict regulations on the use of barbecues and all types of fires in their reserves. During the Fire Danger Season, fires are only allowed in those reserves which have signs at entrances stating that fires are permitted.

These fires may only be lit in designated areas especially set aside for this purpose.

No fires are permitted in National Parks or Forest Reserves when a Total Fire Ban has been imposed.

A number of National Parks and Wildlife reserves have total bans on the use of wood fires. For your safety and to confirm what types of fires are permitted, contact the National Parks and Wildlife Service Offices under the heading 'Environment and Natural Resources', in the telephone directory.

For the more commonly used reserves.

Gas fire are permitted only on prepared fire pads in designated areas.

(For further details contact the park offices between 9am and 4.30pm).

These details are as posted on the CFS' website.

Salt Creek - November 2002

We set off from Adelaide around 4:30pm & headed out thru the hills toward Strathalbyn & thru' Wellington, over the ferry & South toward Salt Creek. The wind was up & quite strong so we envisaged a blowy & cold spot on the beach when we arrived at our destination. We hit the beach about 7:30pm & headed North'ish toward the early birds who had already set up camp. We headed up for 15kms or so & finally found the Rangers clan, pulled up, set up camp (which involved rolling out 4 swags) & 10 minutes later through a line in the water. After a quick chat & assessment we decided the tide was on its way in, the sea had quite a good swell (due to the wind!!) & that these conditions were ideal for catching that elusive big Mulloway that every person fishing was dreaming off!

Well we had had a bite for tea, stoked up the fire & cracked a beer when John (the Pommy ring in) took off like a white Carl Lewis, grabbed his fishing rod & proceeded to drag in a fair sized Mulloway. We had a slight debate about the 'size' (as most blokes do when there is beer involved) & whether it hit legal measurement but when we measured it (3 times to be sure) all the beer got removed from my eski & John's prize catch took precedence (minus the head). Well that got everyone keen & John started on his stories about how to catch a 'legal' size Mulloway (much to Justin's utter disgust).

The night passed by relatively quietly after that although Charlie pulled in a reasonable size Gummy shark, which put a smile on his face for the rest of the trip. Past midnight & swags were calling & with an early rise planned we all slowly dispersed to bed.

Early starts by those keen anglers & a bit more of a normal time for a few of us others, bought about a great looking day. The wind up a touch as the sun climbed in the sky it was a tad warm & shelters were rigged up for some shade (Charlie & Mossy's rig being the bench mark for us amateurs) & some serious fishing was started. As the day passed the sea became calmer & the wind dropped right off. These conditions are not great for fishing unfortunately & saw us catch only a few small salmon trout used for live bait but no luck with anything bigger. Night rolled on & the tide headed in but still not much to write home about so tea was cooked, the fire started & a few beers, bourbons and ports were drank as we all chin wagged around the fire & John reminded us a few more times about his fish.

Next morning we broke camp early & headed back to Adelaide as a change was supposedly coming thru although the sea was still quite calm. All in all over the couple of days there was a good size Mulloway caught, a few stray Salmon, & schoolies, a couple of gummy sharks, several small Salmon trout & some good company (my apologies if anything was missed!!).

Coorong - November 2002

Late but not last

Saturday morning, picking up my final passenger, we headed south to Meningie. Lunch by Lake Albert and perfect weather, the kids couldn't wait to get on the beach. Reaching the beach we sort radio contact. Confirming the party was north towards Tea Tree Crossing, we forged on. Traffic was immense on the beach, co-ordinating right of way on the track by intimidation. The crew awarded me 5/10 after arrival for prioritising a sun shade before a beer.

A quick catchup on the gossip revealed John The Pom was the only real fisherman landing the weekends only "keeper". Saturday night stories by the fire entertained those present, and once again the Coorong protected us with splended weather.

Sunday morning and most were packed early, some left by eight. Christian, Flash and myself drove down Tea Tree Crossing to "check it out". Surprising to see water covered the track, stories of some successfully crossing but we weren't interested by a salt car wash. The remainder of the Group met at the car park, a quick race to pump up tyres (Layne won) and off home. On the trip home there were some words of "Is this where we buy the fish". Oops sorry, "what happens on tour stays on tour" or so they say.

This was the fourth and definitely not the final year.

Thanks again Flash.
