Prez Sez

How much do we really rely on electricity, our phones, iPads, tablets etc? If you can't answer that you've obviously been hiding in a cave along way from South Australia. Kylie asked me to get organised and get Prez Sez done early so you the members can get it before the meeting, however while I was packing for Camp Cook my Surface Pro tablet slid out of my pillow hitting the concrete driveway and its now kaput and the old iPad is flat and we are in the worst storm with a statewide blackout.... Oh well at least I can start it on my phone then transfer to the iPad later once power is back on, at least until my phone goes flat too!

You may or may not have heard but I have been made redundant the week of our last club meeting, I'm not the first and certainly probably won't be the last from within our member ranks. So with this in mind although I'll be at the October club meeting, I won't be around at all in November and December - Tanya is forcing me to take her to Bali for a week and then I'm straight off to Nepal to have a look around by myself for a couple of days, before doing a couple of weeks of volunteering in an orphanage in the hills surrounding Nepal, which is still affected by the big earthquake from early 2015.

The MLR Christmas show is on the weekend of 26th and 27th November at Wirrina holiday park, you should find more info elsewhere in this newsletter, however you will need to book your own site (we currently have the A section unpowered booked for MLR), if you don't want unpowered there are other powered, or cabin sites available as well. I need to thank Jordan who has put his hand up to ensure everything comes together for this weekend, so please offer him whatever assistance you can to make it an enjoyable weekend for everyone. Don't forget about the photo competition - details of how to enter and the categories can be found in the newsletter.

Our December club meeting as per the previous couple of years, will have a Kris Kringle theme with Evil Santa thrown in. The half price champagne will be flowing again. Please bring a wrapped gift to around the value of $10 to place on the table. Tickets will be available to purchase at the door for you to steal someone else's present or choose one for yourself. Please bring a small plate of nibbles to share.

After Christmas has gone its time to clean up your fourby as the January club meeting we are having another show n shine, this is a great time to look at other members rigs and see what gadgets and widgets they have on their beloved fourby. There will be mystery categories to win with a mystery judge or two casting their eye over your pride and joy.

January will also see our annual Beachport Australia Day long weekend trip, the trip sheets are up as well as the trip leader sheet (for aspiring trip leaders to put your name down to lead a trip). Adventurers 4wd club have again invited us to their dinner and quiz night (Which MLR cleaned up majority of prizes this year) so there is a trip sheet for that too.....

Just a reminder that if you put your name on a trip sheet and then your situation changes, please please let the trip leader know so they are not expecting you to turn up. If you don't have the trip leader contact at least get in contact with either myself or Roger our trip coordinator trips@mountloftyrangers.com.au there has been another trip recently where a couple of people didn't turn up and the club has had to pay for their non attendance.

Thanks in advance to our VP, Gary who will be looking after things while I'm off helping the less fortunate in Nepal.

So if I don't see you at the October club meeting, now this will sound weird as its only September..... I hope you all have a very merry Christmas with your friends and family and a happy new year and if travelling, please do so safely! See you out there somewhere, sometime!

TRIP: TYRE REPAIR @ ASHBOURNE

Trainers: Steve Townsend, Glenn Lawson

Participants: Ann and Malcolm, Trevor Light, Phil Simes, Sue Peake

The training was held at Steve Townsend's property at Ashbourne on Saturday 27 August 2016. The weather was fine and it was a very pleasant day, in a scenic location.

We met at 9.00am and Steve provided the theory training, which included tools required and the process to repair tyres and change tyres.

We then had a morning tea break and enjoyed a hot drink and bun and biscuits.

Then Glenn commenced the practical training on how to remove the tyre from the rim. This included marking the location of the valve; removing the tyre valve; use of the bead breaker tool; use of lubricant and tyre levers to separate the tyre from the rim. We each received opportunities to practice the process.

TRIP: TYRE REPAIR @ ASHBOURNE

We then worked together to repair a tyre by applying a patch; putting the tyre back on the rim; replacing the tyre valve and reinflating the tyre. We each got the opportunity to work through the process of plugging a hole in a tyre and reinflating the tyre to check that it was successful.

We stopped for a lunch break and Steve heated up the barbecue for anyone who brought along meat to cook.

Then Glenn and Steve went through the process of changing a tyre and ways to assist with getting the tyre on the hub and wheel carrier. We were then able to practice changing a tyre. We finished at about 3.00pm.

Thanks to Steve and Glenn for providing a very informative training session and the opportunity to practice the skills.

TRIP: CAMP COOK @ TOWITTA

Well the wet weather has been blamed for lots of things this year and Camp Cook is no exception, what was supposed to be the first MLR event at Steve's place was postponed a couple of weeks and changed location to Towitta as well due to the wet soggy ground at Ashbourne.

With a club of around 80 members the turn out was slightly disappointing with 12 odd members and partners attending - but with nearly half the attendees being "camp cook virgins" it turned out to be a great weekend!

I turned up at Towitta late afternoon Friday and after setting my tent up put on our MLR face book that I was there by myself, although I knew Tanya and the old ex President Graham was to turn up sometime Friday night..... Scott and Kerry hadn't planned to come up on Friday but they must have felt sorry for me as they arrived just on dusk. After cooking tea and the obligatory catch-ups especially with Graham as we haven't caught up as often this year, we all headed for bed. Only to be woken around fourish with the pitter patter of rain on the tent, which was to continue on and off till early afternoon, when the other members started filtering in.

The fire was sizzling and the hot task of getting enough coals for everyone was underway by the time everyone got there..... It's funny we haven't really coordinated the meals at camp cook for a number of years now, but unlike last year where majority of dishes were chicken of some description - this year there was not one base or starting ingredient the same:

Pete & Jo Reed cooked herb style damper

Phil and Annmarie Simes cooked chevapici sausage rolls, lamb ribs and bananas with choc and marshmallow

Jonesy had a chicken roll and veg

Jordan and Lainie Ray cooked turkey roll and veg

Scott & Kerry Watkin cooked roast pork and veg with superb crackling

Craig & Michelle Watkin cooked a lamb curry

Malcolm and Ann Morris had a Steak Normandy on their menu

Chris Gear cooked up a storm with his version of minestrone soup

Jason Mckendrick had a Greek style pulled lamb leg with wraps and salad

The Doody's finished off with Golden Syrup Dumplings (well at least Tanya cooked them)

If anybody went hungry they obviously weren't trying!

TRIP REPORT: REDARC

Last year after dropping by the REDARC factory to visit Steve (our resident REDARC sponsor) I thought to myself... I wouldn't mind taking a look inside this place. Having worked with a small defence tech company in a previous life, I was interested to see how other people did things. Anyway, to cut a long story short I thought I other people in the Club might also be interested, so I had a chat with Steve and the visit happened on the evening of Wednesday 21st Sep.

Bob and I arrived around 5:30 to check out the BBQ area and were closely followed by Taz. After meeting Steve we signed in and had to place some electrostatic ribbon type thingy to our boots/shoes before we were allowed through.

The remainder of the 24 MLR members arrived around 6:00 and after the obligatory arrival routine we were split into two initial groups of eight, linked with a REDARC staff member and taken around the factory. The rest of us started the BBQ and had a quick feed of snags, in a hotdog bun with optional onions, sauce and mustard. After ensuring there was enough food ready for when the others finished their tour we went on ours.

The first thing that struck me was how organised and clean the place was, but then again that's the nature of the electronic business. If you are a factory worker I could think of worse places to be. The other thing that struck me, was how small the actual work areas allocated to specific REDARC products were.

TRIP REPORT: REDARC

It's hard to believe that 1-3 people in an area smaller than a single car garage produce one specific line item. The most impressive area of the factory was the room where they made the circuit boards, complete with automated assembly lines, minute components on reels and machines worth mega bucks.

Surface Mount Technology for trailer brakes

After our tour we all gathered in the staff room had a chat, said a few words then went our separate ways. Despite my best effort I managed to leave with a stubby holder and not a solar blanket...never mind. A big thanks to Steve and his REDARC colleagues for hosting us, thanks to Taz, Lesbo and Steve Brown for cooking the snags and onions, and thanks to all those who attended the visit, I hope you all enjoyed it.
