Presidential Press

Well we say it every year...where did the time go, it's December already.

I find myself writing this with a publishing deadline to meet; as such, I thought I would do some reflecting and share my thoughts of the past year.

On balance 2019 for me has been a really good year, plenty of change in my personal life with jobs changing, work around the house, puppies coming and going and new toys added to the mighty 90.

From a club perspective, we had a busy year with multiple trip opportunities provided starting with Beachport in Jan to the most recent being the club Christmas party at Avoca Glenn last weekend (24 Nov). Octoberfest came and went and despite a slow start to planning the activity can be considered a success with a record number of attendees and significant profit made which allowed us to provide donations to both RFDS and Beyond Blue. We conducted our first ladies specific awareness sessions, day trips and even a weekend trip. We already have a ladies day trip on the board for 2020.

Congratulations goes to all of our award winners; Club Person of the Year, Rookie (Marcel) and Quiet Achiever (Lloyd). This year also saw us present our first Life Membership to Ken Bradey. Don't forget if you see someone worthy of a quiet achiever nomination, fill out a form and submit it to the secretary ASAP. This year we already have numerous nominations so that's fantastic.

Our AGM saw a change across several committee positions. I would like to thank all committee members past and present for their efforts to date. From a personal perspective, I have continued with the theme of "opportunities for all". If you are interested in supporting / driving the club, I would encourage you to put in a nomination when the call goes out early next year.

Our membership as at the end of November is 77. That is not too bad given we had a significant review and consolidated our list. Quality not quantity 😊.

Don't forget our Dec meeting will be the evil Santa meeting. There will be $2 tap beers and champagnes available, so bring your better half for a good evening. Bring a present circa $10 and get a ticket to receive a present, bring more than one, receive more than one etc. You should go home with as many presents as you brought, however, the quality may have changed. Tickets will be drawn, members can pick a gift from the table (unwrap and show gift to all) or steal a gift previously collected. If you have your gift stolen, you get to return to the table for a second pick. Oh...Bring a small plate of nibbles to share on your table.

Heads Up:

- Monthly Meeting 14th Jan 2019: - Show and Shine - Prizes for best in categories. [categories will be a surprise]
- Beachport have you booked your site yet?

Finally, Thanks to all who contributed to activities throughout the year and to all of you for being active members. Without either of these, MLR would cease to be. From my family to your family, I wish you all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New. If you're travelling, drive safely as we all want to see you next year.

Next Meetings:

Next monthly meeting is 9th December

Next committee meeting 5th January 2020

Word of the Month:

In keeping with the current theme
(check out the previous months)...

Euouae - is six letters long, but all of the letters are vowels.
It holds two Guinness World Records. It's the longest English word composed exclusively of vowels, and it has the most consecutive vowels of any word. If you are wondering about its meaning, it's a musical term from medieval times.*

TRIP REPORT: NUCCALEENA MINE

Courtesy of Tim & Lindy Paul

Saturday 5th October.

Most “campers” arrived on Friday the 4th, and I do use the term campers in the loosest of terms, as it most people were in caravans or trailers, us included, with tents being in the minority.

Everyone had chosen which trip they wanted to do Friday night, and we had opted to go to the mines. After letting tyre pressures down at Parachilna we continued along the Parachilna gorge road to the first mine at Blinman. After organising the tour tickets we had time to go to the café for refreshments while waiting for the tour to begin. The town of Blinman relies on tourist dollars to raise money to keep the mine tours operating and to keep the town viable. The café had a large variety of very good and tasty food, and good coffee. There were 5 in our group, in three cars, Gary, Lindy and Tim, Marianne and Tom.

TRIP REPORT: NUCCALEENA MINE

We drove a short way to the mine opening, which was a locked door set into the hillside, and our tour guide gave us a talk about the miners and the conditions they endured. The miners came from Cornwall and as they worked in family groups, they had a vested interest in the health and safety of everyone in their group. If they had a poor seam of copper to mine, they struggled to make enough money to survive on. Boys from age 8 worked above ground breaking the rock as it came out of the mine. When a boy turned 14 he was then expected to go into the mine to work. The mine was of course pitch black and there were about 10 men in a family seam, and each had one candle to work by. One candle in a huge dark space did nothing to expel the darkness. The mine had to be seen to understand the conditions these men and boys worked under. The guide turned the lights off and in the far distance was a faint red glow, which was equivalent to 10 candle power. This particular area was extensively mined and unbelievably dangerous, as I'm sure were the other seams. The guide told a true story of a lad who could not wait to turn 14 so he could go underground. His job was to wheel the heavy barrow full of rock across a narrow bridge. He fell, over 3 stories into the cold water below, the water probably saving his life, but his barrow landed on his legs trapping him. His candle of course went out so he was in pitch darkness. Imagine trying to locate and save someone under those circumstances with only a few candles and ropes. However, they did save him and after many months recovery he went back to the mines and worked there for many years, he lived to be an old man. The tour lasted over an hour and was most interesting and informative.

TRIP REPORT: NUCCALEENA MINE

We went to the Blinman pub in search of an easy lunch however there were so many other tourists with the same idea, we decided to go back to the café, where we sat in comfort and enjoyed a quick lunch.

We headed off on Glass gorge road towards Nuccaleena mine. We turned off Glass gorge road driving briefly onto Moolooloo station, then headed for the mine. Some of the mining structures are still completely standing, and the well built quality of the remains of the buildings are amazing. It was interesting to be able to walk around the area without restriction, other than a couple of small fenced areas which surrounded very deep holes.

TRAINING REPORT: WINCH AWARENESS

On the 10th of November I conducted a "Winch Awareness" session at Ashbourne Training Track. There were 5 eager participants, Gary, Trevor and Brenden, Luke and Martin ready to start at 9-30am with about 1hour of theory on the correct procedures, safety aspects, rated recovery equipment required and discussions about what could go wrong with a winch recovery.

About 10-30am, theory finished, we headed off to the Training Track to put into practice what we had discussed earlier. Gary being the first up keen to try out his new winch, with a synthetic cable and accessories, started with a single line pull out of a short but steep creek crossing. Next we did a 90 degree recovery demonstrating how we use a snatch block to change direction if you find it difficult to get the recovery vehicle in a safe position to extract the vehicle that requires retrieval. We followed up with a double line pull from Gary's vehicle through a snatch block and back to the Gary's vehicle. This process is a bit slower but increases the pulling power of the winch. The snatch block that we used is new on the market and consists of an aluminium machined wheel approx 100mm in diameter and used with a soft shackle.

TRAINING REPORT: WINCH AWARENESS

Total weight of the wheel and soft shackle is about 380grams and complies with Australian Standards, compared to an all steel snatch block at 3 kilograms. Not only is there a weight saving but reduces the risk of a 3 kilogram missile in the event of a cable or accessory failure. With Gary packed up Luke was brought his vehicle into position and this time we used a steel winch cable. A straight line pull was executed with a steel cable and did an excellent job but it is not quite as user friendly as the synthetic cable.

TRAINING REPORT: WINCH AWARENESS

After a tidy up and all gear checked and put away we moved over to a steeper, longer climb to demonstrate an advanced form of winching like you may find you have to use in the high Country. Trevor and Brenden were now involved as the process requires you to extract the winch cable out as far as you can, remembering to keep a minimum of 5 wraps of winch cable on the winch drum, and securing it to the base of a satisfactory solid tree or vehicle to winch from. Once this was established with the area clear we commenced winching to the point that the vehicle needed to change direction and we were running out of winch cable. Time to stop, secure the vehicle and bring out the winch extension strap and drag chain. Choosing a suitable tree further up the hill we secured the winch extension strap and laid it out back to the vehicle, attached the drag chain then attached the other end of the chain to the vehicle. The reason we use the drag chain it give you the ability to adjust the chain reasonable tight so when you reverse your winch the strap and chain take up the strain, without the vehicle moving back very far, and hold the vehicle while you extend the winch cable out further up the track in preparation of your next winching session. As you can imagine this all takes time and on a 38degree day it takes its toll on those that are participating so just be aware and keep focused on a safe recovery.

TRIP REPORT: GOOLWA TO MURRAY MOUTH

17 November 2019

What started out as an overcast morning, ended up being a beautiful sunny, albeit windy, day. We met in the carpark just before 10, and once we were all assembled, and had depressurised our tyres, we set off down the ramp and onto Goolwa Beach. Well it was like the Southern Expressway down there – cars everywhere! The sand was flat in places, and quite deeply rutted in others, with the cars getting tossed from side to side as we tried to stay in line.

Once we got down to the Murray mouth, there were less cars, and a few campers, obviously there for the weekend. It was windy and quite cool, but that did not dampen our enthusiasm for the day.

Paul got out his fishing rod while the rest of us decided to head to Neil's secret cockling spot and grab some bait for the next time we go fishing, although I did overhear Neil saying that he had saved the coordinates on his other phone, so I think this place was just a guess on his part.

Then the sun came out.

What ensued then was nothing short of a parade of bathers, shorts and wetsuits. The clear winner was Pam, who in her own words said she looked like a porpoise! Dressed head to toe in black, except for her blue booties!

Lyn and I felt it our duty to stay on the beach and take on the duties of lookout, especially as many of our group looked like shark bait!

TRIP REPORT: GOOLWA TO MURRAY MOUTH

Trevor was being buffeted around like a cork by the waves, and in the end decided that he stood no chance and might as well just get wet. Heather was inspirational as she got knocked over and then made a spectacular recovery to the applause of those on the beach!

Half way through the expedition we were joined by Eric, no doubt looking for bait for his fishing trip in Salt Creek, so he joined Pam and Neil in the waves, while the rest of us watched on.

The cockles were checked for legal size and counted - Then the tide turned – literally. Some of us (me in particular), were a little concerned so we moved about a km where the beach was wider, and got out our lunch. I must say, my fancy table cloth and gas kettle caused quite a stir amongst the others.

Pam brought out a lovely iced birthday cake for Kevin, who gave up his special day to spend it with us.

All in all, it was a fantastic day, we really enjoyed ourselves and are looking forward to our next trip. Thanks to Neil as trip leader, and the other members – Auburn and Dewi, Heather and Kevin, Rob and Trish, Eric, Pam, Trevor and Lyn, Paul and Margaret for making us feel welcome
